

Studying at Folkwang

Folkwang
University of the Arts

Are you interested in studying at the Folkwang University of the Arts?

As the sole art AND music university in the state of North Rhine-Westphalia (NRW), we offer a wide range of subjects in the fields of music, theatre, dance, design and academic studies. The about 1,600 students and a teaching staff of over 400 come from the four corners of the earth. We at Folkwang attach particular importance to exchange and diversity.

Since 1927, the fundamental idea of our training has been interdisciplinary work and the fusion of the arts. For example, both the exchange amongst the various disciplines and stage/live experience is from the outset an integral component of your study course. Each Folkwang study course clearly highlights not only innovative art forms and concepts but also the constant reference to the professional and everyday world of artists, academics, pedagogues and designers. Folkwang offers you some 40 study courses and programmes, including the internationally recognised Bachelor and Master degree and Artist Diploma. In addition to special forms of study such as the Junior Study Course and guest student programmes, you can also take doctoral and postdoctoral programmes.

And whatever subject you decide on: studying at the Folkwang University of the Arts means studying in an extraordinary atmosphere, at special locations, in historically listed and architectural award-winning buildings – in the heart of the Ruhr Metropolis. With campuses in Essen-Werden, Essen-Zollverein, Duisburg, Bochum and Dortmund (Orchesterzentrum|NRW), we are anchored in one of the culturally and industrially most interesting urban centres of Europe.

Getting into Folkwang

LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS

The language of instruction at all Folkwang faculties is German. Therefore applicants have to provide evidence of the necessary language skills for their study course as an admissions requirement. Different language requirements apply to the individual study courses. Information on this is available here: www.folkwang-uni.de/international-applicants

APPLICATION

To take part in the aptitude test for a place in a study course, you apply digitally via the Folkwang application portal in the respective application period and upload all the required documents there. Only in some design study courses a portfolio is also submitted in paper form.

You can find further information at: www.folkwang-uni.de/bewerbung

APTITUDE TEST

The content and procedure of the test varies depending on the study course. The aptitude test can include several stages or take place in one stage. For study courses with multi-stage aptitude tests, the first stage usually takes place in the form of a „digital preliminary round“. In this case, a link to the relevant content (e.g. application video) must be added to the portal within the application deadline. On the website of the respective degree programme you will find the precise information under 'Basic Info & Application': www.folkwang-uni.de/studium

We support you!

STUDENT ADVISORY SERVICE

You can obtain advice on studying at Folkwang from the Student Advisory Service: studienberatung@folkwang-uni.de +49 (0)201_4903-384

At the Folkwang University of the Arts we provide a whole range of advice on studying. All contact partners can be found at: www.folkwang-uni.de/beratung

CAREER SERVICE

The transition from studying to working is a special phase in the development of artists. The Folkwang Career Service supports students and alumni in this process through courses, developing expert knowledge, expertise on institutions and personal competences, as well as through individual consultations and a mentoring programme. Furthermore the networking between Folkwang students and alumni is a key objective of the Career Service. www.folkwang-uni.de/careerservice

COMBINING STUDIES & LIFE

At Folkwang we are actively promoting a barrier- and discrimination-free learning environment for all – irrespective of social origin, ideology, culture and religion, sexual orientation, age, gender or disability. Therefore the family service helps with the challenge of combining studies with family responsibilities through childcare provision, financial aid and graduation grants amongst other things. Regarding the compatibility of studies and disability, the representative for students with disability or chronic illness provides advice on individual compensation for disadvantage/s suffered (e.g. in the aptitude test).

INTERNATIONAL OFFICE

The International Office of the Folkwang University of the Arts is the international service area of the Academic Administration. This is the place where worldwide exchanges are coordinated and students receive advice on exchange programmes – both on their path abroad and their path to Folkwang. More information on advice and offers, as well as on support for stays abroad, is available at: www.folkwang-uni.de/international

SCHOLARSHIPS AND GRANTS

There are various funding possibilities for students at Folkwang: ranging from individual scholarship programmes to an emergency fund. The cash prizes available in the Folkwang competitions can also contribute to financing the study. www.folkwang-uni.de/foerderung www.folkwang-uni.de/wettbewerb

SEMESTER FEES

The Folkwang University of the Arts does not charge study fees. A semester contribution shall be paid for each semester (Deutschland-semester ticket plus social contribution). Information on the amount and breakdown of fees can be found here: www.folkwang-uni.de/rueckmeldung

STUDIERENDENWERK

The Studierendenwerk Essen-Duisburg (student services provider) provides students at Folkwang with a comprehensive service on all matters relating to their study. In addition to a wide range of affordable accommodation provided in Essen, you will also find here the BAföG (German state student financial assistance) Office as well as the Social and Psychological Advisory Service. www.stw-edu.de/beratung/kontakt
